Introduction

To you, the person holding this book,

Firstly, I must share something with you:

This isn't just a book.

Rather, it is a magical portal to many wondrous worlds.

I know it looks like an ordinary colouring book, but what you hold in your hands is actually a doorway to adventure and travel beyond your wildest imaginings! Until recently, these magical books were kept hidden away by the Secret Society of Curious Colourists, but in recent months, copies have found their way to new adventure seekers, including you.

Now you must choose: Do you put this book down and decline its invitation to adventure . . . or do you turn the page and explore enchanted villages, floating islands, and treetop castles?

Of course, we both know the answer. The book already chose you. It knows you are a curious and creative adventure seeker!

So, shall we begin? Hold tight, and here we go!

Much love,

Johanna x

A Guide to Exploring Worlds of Wonder

☆ Take colouring pencils on your adventure; they can be blended and layered to create many wondrous effects.

✂ If you are tempted by ink, be cautious, bold explorer! Use the colour palette test pages at the back of the book to check if your ink will bleed through the paper.

🐟 Slip a sheet or two of blank paper beneath the page you are working on to prevent indentation or transfer of ink to the pages below.

✎ Going outside the lines, adding your own embellishments, and wandering off the page are all heartily encouraged.

🌀 Don't remain in a world if your curiosity is calling you elsewhere. Turn the page and begin a new adventure—you can return to worlds anytime you wish.

🌸 Share your worlds with like-minded adventurers! Show friends, upload to my colouring gallery, or share on social media with #WorldsOfWonder.

🌀 The adventure continues. . .
